

Calibration and Repair Services

Our in-house facilities provide load cell calibration and testing services with traceability to local, national and international standards to ensure conformance to published specifications.

Not only can we calibrate and repair our own line of equipment, but we can also provide services on load cells produced by other manufacturers.

Our facilities and services are registered to ISO 9001:2000 which ensures quality to the highest standards in industry.